

Spring 2017 Colloquium Series

The Department of Psychology presents...

Ready or Not:

Blame and Psychological Fitness for Re-entry among Girls in the Juvenile Justice System

Ashaki M. Jackson, PhD

April 24th, 2017 4:00-5:00PM SB 461

Early Environment Matters: Translational Approaches to Neurodevelopmental Disorders

Susan B. Powell, PhD

April 26th 2017, 4:00-5:00pm PS-203

New Uses For An Old Hormone: Oxytocin As A Potential Treatment For Psychostimulant Addiction

Ronald See, PhD – Westmont College

May 10th 2017, 4:00-5:00pm PS-203

Examining Reactions toward Nonverbal Disclosure as a 'Coming Out' Strategy among Gay Men

Adrian Villicana, ABD – University of Kansas

May 17th 2017, 4:00-5:00pm PS-203

Getting into PhD Programs: Student and Faculty Prospective

Kamiya Stewart & Diana Robinson

May 24th 2017, 4:00-5:00pm

Rm: TBA

Challenging and Supportive Factors Encountered by Underrepresented Minority Students in STEM Doctoral Programs

Tessy Pumacchua, ABD - University of Rhode Island

May 31st 2017, 4:00-5:00pm PS-203

Thinking About Feeling:
How do our thoughts about emotions influence the emotions we feel and our psychological health?

Brett Q. Ford – University of Toronto

June 7th 2017, 4:00-5:00pm PS-203

